

Duty of information from employer to employee in accordance with article 138bis-9 of the law of 25 June 1992 on the Belgian Insurance Act: prefinancing option of the premium for individual continuation of an occupation-related incapacity for work cover

Employer's details

Employer's name _____

Policy number _____

Information intended for the employee

The employee affiliated to an occupation-related incapacity for work cover has the option, when he loses the benefit as provided in the law, to continue this insurance individually, either entirely or partly, without having to undergo an additional medical examination, and without filling in a new medical questionnaire. The employee shall, in the two years preceding the loss of this cover, have been affiliated uninterruptedly to one or more consecutive incapacity for work insurance policies taken out with an insurance firm as referred to in the law.

The employee has the option to pay additional premiums individually. In case of individual continuation the premium will be calculated taking into account the age when the insured party started to pay additional premiums.
